12th IADVL Telangana Annual Conference CUTICON TELANGANA 2026

Date: 05th & 06th December 2026

Venue:

Engineering Staff College of India, Hyderabad

Organised By
IADVL Telangana

WELCOME MESSAGE

On behalf of the entire Organising Committee, it is our privilege and pleasure to warmly welcome you to TG CUTICON 2026, the Telangana State Annual Conference of Dermatologists, Venereologists & Leprologists.

TG CUTICON is much more than an academic conference. It is a celebration of our fraternity, friendship and togetherness—a wonderful opportunity for colleagues from across Telangana to meet, reconnect and share cherished moments in a warm and festive atmosphere. Since the inception of Telangana in 2014, our annual conference has continued to provide a special platform for bringing our dermatology community together.

This year, we are delighted to welcome esteemed speakers from across India, along with an international faculty member, adding a wider perspective and enriching our academic programme. From thought-provoking scientific sessions and insightful discussions to award papers and interactive learning, we have curated an academic feast that we hope will inspire and benefit every delegate.

And because every memorable conference is about more than academics, we have planned a cultural feast on the evening of the first day, bringing our fraternity together in celebration, laughter and camaraderie.

We also warmly request all our members to participate in the General Body Meeting on the first day of the conference. Your presence, participation and collective voice are integral to the growth and progress of our association.

We are truly excited to welcome you all to Hyderabad for an enriching blend of academics, friendship, culture and celebration.

Let us learn together, reconnect with one another, celebrate our fraternity and create memories that go far beyond the conference podium.

We look forward to welcoming you all to TG CUTICON 2026!
